

FOXTON FESTIVAL OF BOATS

It is 75 years since the Inland Waterways Festival of Boats took place at Market Harborough in 1950. Historically, the Festival is seen as the first major event to bring the canals and leisure boating to the attention of the public.

The Festival was the first national boat gathering and was hailed as a huge success and widely recognised as the event that kicked off the canal leisure industry. Over the six days of the event, the Festival attracted 120 craft and an estimated 50,000 visitors to the rally site at Union Wharf, Market Harborough canal basin. To mark the 75th anniversary of this momentous event the Leicestershire Branch of the Inland Waterways Association, supported by Harborough District Council, the Old Union Canals Society, Foxton Museum and the Canal & River Trust are hosting a rally of boats at Foxton Locks over the weekend of Saturday, June 7th and Sunday 8th.

What will we see there?

Vibrancy and loads of colour are guaranteed, plus shoals of floating-market traders and hosts of bankside stalls, over twenty historic working boats and a real-ale bar and light refreshments. Throughout the weekend there will be music and entertainment for the whole family across the site - and why not pop into the Museum and see the special displays of images and memories of the original festival in 1950?

The boats will be on the move on Saturday afternoon when there will be a ceremonial cavalcade of boats to the site of the 1950 rally at Market Harborough basin, and back.

Entry to the Festival is FREE. However, normal car park charges apply: Long Stay (Festival car park) £3 all day.

BEST PRACTICE

In the recent Sunday Times Best Places to Live Guide, Market Harborough was judged by the panel as being hard to beat for its historical background, the host of independent shops and schools. The judges also noted the town's connectivity both to the major highway system and to rail services. The report looked at other aspects including high-speed Broadband access, the quality of the surrounding countryside and attractiveness of the local tourism facilities.

PUDDING CLUB

A very enjoyable evening was had by all when All Saints Church members held their recent 'Second Helping' Pudding Evening fund-raiser.

A big thank you to the pudding makers, willing helpers and to all those who came along to sample the variety of puddings...and most importantly, who gave so generously.

It was a real community effort and raised the amazing total of £672.54 for church funds.

Many thanks to Clive and his team from The Conservation Trust and the lads and lasses from PwC Birmingham, who installed our new picnic bench at the Millennium Wood recently. The 'man-power' was provided free of charge by PwC as part of their Corporate Days team-building scheme.

BUGLE POSTBAG

From a Concerned Villager

Dear residents, this is a barking dog plea... Please, please please, could all dog owners think about the noise that their dog can make.

Even when closed in the house, barking can be heard by your neighbours. Sometimes for long periods.

We have shift workers, young children sleeping and people with hearing or mental difficulties that are being affected. It is not a trivial thing, great anxiety can be caused so please can you think about where you are leaving your dog and if you are allowing continuous barking to happen.

From Mike Price, Highcroft

A big thank you to all the kind people who made a donation to the Alzheimer's Society, the chosen charity for my London Marathon run at the end of April. Nearly £2000 was raised - well done! The marathon run was tough going, made worse by a knee injury that I got a week before the event. Cutty Sark and Tower Bridge were the highlights but the knee got painful going into the Isle of Dogs and Canary Wharf, though a strange pungent aroma from the crowds seemed to dull the pain a bit on the Embankment...

By Parliament and Birdcage Walk I was nearing the end - just Buckingham Palace and a crippling jog down The Mall and all done. Worth doing - but never again!

Leicestershire Police are urging Toyota owners to be aware of a recent spate of thefts of late model pick-up trucks and SUVs across the county. Evidence suggests that there is a ready market for parts, where the stolen vehicles are broken up and the individual parts sold into the Back Market. Breaking the vehicles makes it difficult to trace the origin.

The Road Safety Team has been carrying out speed checks recently and dealing with road safety matters across the beat. Here are some of the results:

BOSWORTH IN FOCUS

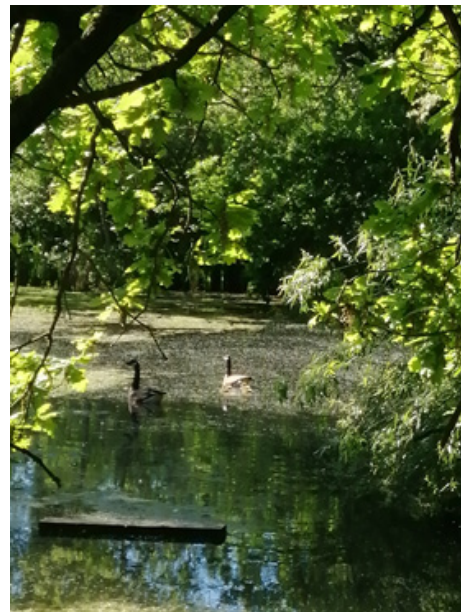

Taking a gander...

A flurry of interest earlier in the year, when a pair of Canada geese set up home on the Millennium Wood pond intensified recently with the appearance of a brood of fluffy goslings. There has always been a presence in the Wood of mallard, heron and the odd kingfisher, but this is the first time that geese have been seen.

As the name suggests the origin of the Canada Goose is northern North America, where they are still a dominant species. Canada geese were first introduced into the UK in the late 17th century, as an addition to King James II's waterfowl collection in St. James's Park, and soon became fashionable on country estates as decorative and game birds.

Given their abundance today, it is hard to imagine that until the mid-twentieth century, they were a relatively rare sight. In 1953 the estimated population was less than 4,000 birds, but recent figures from the RSPB suggest that there are as many as 55,000 breeding pairs resident in the UK.

Nominally a migratory bird, the introduced populations soon adapted to a non-migratory life, often living in large permanent hierarchical colonies. Fiercely territorial, with few predators and little competition in their aquatic environment, they have thrived in our temperate climate to the extent that in many public parks, riversides and on waterside farmland they have become a recognised pest. They are particularly enthusiastic herbivores, consuming vast quantities of greenery - hopefully, they will help to clear our woodland pond of the pervasive water-growing grasses and weeds...

SCOUTING FOR BOSWORTH

We will be holding a Summer Fete and BBQ at the Scout Hut on Thursday, June 5th from 6.30pm. Our Scouts have been working hard preparing some games and stalls suitable for all ages. All money raised will go straight back into providing opportunities for our young people. Please join us as we open our doors to past, present and future members for an enjoyable evening of fun!

Our Scout Troop will also be representing the group at the Market Harborough Carnival on 14th June. We are hoping to increase our community presence to attract more members. Please come and say hello if you see us.

Cubs have had a wonderful start to the term with a Taskmaster-style challenge evening and enjoyed a very hot and sweaty walk down to the village Millennium Wood to play some wide games.

Our Beaver Colony have already completed their Photography badge by taking pictures on a visit to Kilworth Bogs and making an eye catching display in the Hut. They have also created their own bug hotels from recycled food cans.

SCHOOL REPORT

HUSBANDS BOSWORTH C. of E. PRIMARY SCHOOL Head of School Alison Vickers

“Wishing our Year 6 Leavers all the very best, as they prepare to leave their primary school days behind them. They have been a pleasure to teach and watch grow into confident, caring and fun-loving individuals. Their new secondary schools are lucky to have them, and we couldn’t be prouder of everything they have achieved. Thank you for being part of our school family.” Mrs Vickers, Head of School, Husbands Bosworth CE Primary School

Class 3 had fun and games at Brook House Residential Home recently. The children were amazing, as always - reading aloud, playing dominoes (with lots of different rules!) and doing jigsaws with the residents.

The interaction between the generations is so lovely to watch - we’ve been told that for some of the residents, it is the highlight of the week. Well done all!

Editor’s Note: The children go into Brook House regularly as part of their #generationstogether initiative.

BYGONE BOSWORTH

Images from the Historical Society’s Archive Collection

This photograph gives us an idea of the popularity of the event as we prepare to celebrate the 75th anniversary of the Inland Waterways Festival of Boats, which took place in Market Harborough in 1950. According to newspaper reports at the time, the event attracted over 50,000 visitors, despite the grey skies and showers - and from this picture it is clear that a fair proportion of the crowds seem to have fetched up at the footbridge (Bridge 14). Another gauge of the extent of the crowding is that the footbridge is fully a half a mile outside the terminal basin, which was the actual focus of the festival.

To get our bearings, the cars in the background are parked along the B6047 Leicester Road, where the lay-by is today. The bridge is no longer there - replaced by a swish road-bridge, which sweeps across the canal at this point today as part of the access agreement for the new William Davis Homes / Taylor-Wimpey development.

ALL SAINTS CHURCH NEWS

The Beauty of Tiny Details

Sometimes when reading the Bible, you come across a tiny detail that you almost don't notice, but, which, on investigation, proves to be massively important. One such detail occurs in Acts Chapter 9, where we are told that St Peter was staying at the home of Simon, a tanner.

That would have been explosive reading for any Jew, because Jewish religious purity laws stated that contact with dead animals made you ceremonially unclean. So, tanning leather, with the constant contact with animal skins was abhorrent to Jews and tanners were almost always in a state of 'uncleanness'. No other Jew could come near them; they were not allowed to enter a Jewish home, or synagogue. So, for St Peter, staying in the home of a tanner, is massive. It shows that some of the Jewish religious and social barriers were already being broken down in the Christian church.

Now, there is another fascinating tiny detail to notice. We are told this was in the town of Joppa. So, St Peter's journey towards an acceptance that Gentiles could join the Church, began in the town of Joppa. If you know your Old Testament, you will be aware of another unexpected journey towards the Gentiles that begins in Joppa.

The word of the Lord came to Jonah, son of Amittai: "Go to the great city of Nineveh and preach against it, because its wickedness has come up before me." But Jonah ran away from the Lord and headed for Tarshish and went to Joppa where he found a ship bound for that port. In the book of Jonah, his journey towards the Gentiles also begins in Joppa. The amazing story of God's grace coming to the Gentile Ninevites, begins in Joppa.

This is one of those amazing parallels between the Old and New Testaments... God organises some detail, which is of no significance at the time, but which seven centuries later will enable it to be understood in a deeper way and reveal something of His awesome majesty and control of events to reveal Himself and his Heart.

The tiny detail of St Peter's story happening in Joppa connects with the Old Testament story of Jonah, enabling his story to be understood more deeply, and giving early Christians the confidence to reach out to Gentiles themselves.

The tiny detail of Joppa helps to open the Church to people like you and me. If you are a Gentile Christian, this is, at least in part, because of the tiny detail of Joppa! Isn't that beautiful?
