

BOSWORTH REMEMBERS!

As the years roll by, the names on the village War Memorial fade into the historical distance. Whilst they are just names on a plaque, those names represent a much wider sacrifice, representing not only the menfolk of Bosworth who gave their lives in the two world wars, but also everyone who has fought, and continue to fight, for the freedoms that we enjoy today. Their names liveth for evermore...

Please note that there will be no formal door-to-door Poppy Day Appeal collection around the village this year. So, look out for collection boxes and poppies, in the village shop, in the Bell and around town, donate generously and wear your poppy with pride! Please join us, at 10.45am on Sunday, November 8th, at the village War Memorial, as we remember those of our parish who gave their lives.

A special Service of Remembrance, in All Saints Church, will be held jointly with St. Mary's, Roman Catholic Church, led by Rev. Chris Oxley, with the address by Fr. Matthew Pittam.

This image, Bosworth Remembers, is part of a series of illustrative plaques by local artist, Lois Pedley, commissioned by Husbands Bosworth Parish Council. The series of images, which now hang in the Sports Pavilion meeting room, represent an historical timeline of key times in the history of Husbands Bosworth, with Bosworth of today, represented by the youngsters, looking into the past... This image depicts the unveiling of the village War Memorial in April 1921. DIGGING SCHOOL

As part of their Stone Age topic for the autumn term, the school top class had a busy day digging into Bosworth's past. The children enjoyed opening up a test-pit in the school playing field and unearthing various 'treasures' that help to tell the history of the area.

As they excavated deeper, there was a 'buzz' among the diggers when they uncovered a gravelly feature that appeared to be man-made and numerous 'toe-nail' fossils from the Jurassic period...

The class was fired up even before they started their playing field 'dig', as earlier they had been invited to see what the professional archaeological team working behind the school had found in their test trenches on the proposed housing development site.

An enthusiastic archaeologist working on site pointed out numerous features in the trial trenches that indicated quite intense human activity, dating back to the Iron Age, Saxon and Roman times, across wide areas of the site.

COMMUNITY GRANT FUNDING

Harborough District Council have announced a second year of community grant schemes, aimed at providing funding for local projects and initiatives across Harborough District.

Ward Member Community Grant

Each HDC ward member has an allocation of £35,000 to support projects that benefit residents and communities in their ward. Grants of £500 upwards, are available. Organisations wishing to apply should first discuss their project with their ward member, (the Ward Member for Bosworth is Amanda Nunn: a.nunn@harborough.gov.uk) who will decide which project or projects they wish to support. Only schemes that can demonstrate a clear community benefit will be considered.

Full guidance is available on the harborough.gov.uk website, or search for Harborough Ward Member Community Grant scheme

BUGLE POSTBAG

Open Letter to Canal & River Trust (from a regular local towpath user)

Sorry but this is not a compliment, it's the opposite. At Husbands Bosworth on the Grand Union Canal, we have had contractors in place for weeks who seem to be extremely slow at doing what appears to be simple work. All of the dog walkers and joggers I speak to are of the same opinion. Progress just seems to be at a snails pace....The CRT team blame the Engineers for telling them how to do the job but they couldn't do it that way, so they had to wait for fresh decisions and different shuttering. They blamed the poor planning to get materials to them; blamed the changes in upper management. We've had a section taped off for ages, prohibiting access where cows apparently damaged the towpath. [They] said that the current contract doesn't include working on that. All in all, the towpath users around Husbands Bosworth think that CRT is a shambles. The towpath has always been poor, now it is closed.

I would welcome a response and an update as to what the plans are to get our towpaths back. [A response would be welcomed] from a manager, not from a contractor or supervisor who will just deflect all responsibility and accountability. It looks like a lot of money is being wasted in idle time, which obviously can't be good for the Trust. If I can get an update, then I can share this with the village.

(Editor's Note: as we go to press, the correspondent has had no response from CRT)

POLICE FILE

To contact your Dedicated Neighbourhood Team (DNT) online, use the quick and simple online contact tool - Search Lutterworth Police. You will be asked a few questions to make sure your query gets to the right place.

Recent analysis of crime reports suggests that folk are still being scammed by criminals purporting to be from utility companies, banks, the police or other authorities.

The scammers are becoming increasingly more creative, and are now using 'spoofing' software to cover up their real identity and caller ID, and substituting the phone number and identity of a legitimate organisation. They do this to make it appear that calls or text messages are coming from a trusted organisation like the police, banks or government agencies.

These scam calls may use AI technology, be automated or from a real person. Their main goal is to trick you into sharing personal information or to transfer money.

In essence, all 'cold calls' should be treated with suspicion, and any pressure to release payment details should be seen as a red flag.

Don't be afraid to voice your concerns about the call, and don't be afraid to hang up - any legitimate caller will realise that you are wary and seek alternative ways to confirm their identity or to contact you.

Report a suspicious phone call

If you've lost money or have been hacked as a result of responding to a 'phishing' message or scam call, you should report it to Report Fraud at: www.reportfraud.police.uk or call 0300 123 2040.

You can also report suspected scam calls by sending a text to 7726 with the word 'Call' and the caller's number.

BOSWORTH IN FOCUS

WILD ABOUT BOSWORTH

Pheasant

Usually known simply as a 'pheasant', the familiar bird that we all know is more accurately called the common or ring-necked pheasant, and is part of a wider family of more than 45 variants.

At this time of the year, the stable domestic pheasant population is swollen considerably by the introduction of tens of millions of reared game birds, bred specifically for the shooting season, which is open from October 1st to February 1st. As the flight birds are dispersed during the season, we tend to see more birds, especially those that lack simple road-sense and become the familiar road-kill!

The introduction of the pheasant to England is often credited to the Romans, who had previously brought them to Europe from their native Asia, during early trading expeditions in the east. However, it is now thought more likely that they were introduced by the Normans, as table birds in the 11th century. There is little mention of them during medieval times, and their ultimate fate as reared game birds is not recorded until the 16th century, when sporting guns became more readily available. The sport took off properly with the invention of the shotgun and the rise of the landed gentry and their country estates.

Whilst the rearing of any animal or game for 'sport' is always going to be a contentious issue, in the case of pheasants and other reared ground birds, it has been noted that rearing units, managed woodlands and game shoots have shown positive advantages for the wider wildlife, especially smaller birds, insects, butterflies and small mammals.

The rearing and release of reared birds over guns also has a considerable economic value, and provides much-needed local employment, especially in the remote Highlands of Scotland, where few other viable income streams are available to the big estates. Whilst the cost per gun of a day's shoot over a small farm enterprise may be in the region of £100 - £200, a day on a prestigious landed estate can cost the shooter over £3,000... and the shoot usually gets too keep all the game that is shot!

SCHOOL REPORT

HUSBANDS BOSWORTH C. of E. PRIMARY SCHOOL Head of School Alison Vickers

Classes 2, 3 and 4 thoroughly enjoyed getting creative during our recent Activity Week, with printing as the main focus.

Class 2 explored leaf patterns, before using them to create their own autumnal masterpieces, inspired by Lois Ehlert's popular storybook character, Leaf Man.

Meanwhile, Class 3 studied the nature-based work of Speyside artist and print maker, Angie Lewin, and produced their own single-colour botanical-themed prints.

Class 4 looked at the distinctive floral work of 19th century designer, William Morris and designed their own wallpaper using polystyrene prints of animals and flowers.

The artwork produced by all three classes looks incredible and gives a beautiful autumnal feel to our school walls.

School will be holding a short Remembrance Service in Church on Armistice Day, November 11th at 9.30am.

BYGONE BOSWORTH

Images from the Historical Society's Archive Collection

This image from the Historical Society Archive represents a tenuous link to Bosworth that is worth recounting... The story starts back in the post-Maoist era in China. A group of intrepid British students, some of the first to return to the country after the Tiananmen Square massacre, embarked on an adventure of a lifetime in a country that was emerging into the modern world. The vague idea was to help introduce Western business and ideas into the local economy. Old barriers, social and commercial however, constantly presented themselves to the visitors. Their story is told in graphic detail in Simon Myers book, Adrift in China. Business ventures of varying degrees of success evolved as the group took opportunities in a new world that was gradually opening up to Western influences. Social interaction, however, was still clad in suspicion and doubt, drawing the small groups of foreigners closer together.

What set out to be a short stay, initially a year, in which to absorb the changing political climate of China, extended organically into more than 5 years, and in 1998 a decision was made to return to the UK.

Local Hell's Angels and the Great Wall of China

Local Hell's Angels...

Short on adventure, due to continuing visitor and social constraints, the group came up with the idea of purchasing motor cycles and riding overland back to civilisation, roughly tracing the medieval trading route - the Silk Road...

So, despite an almost complete lack of experience, but fuelled by the promise of adventure, they purchased five Changjian 750 motorcycles, complete with sidecars - a 1930s BMW design, built locally under licence in China, primarily for military use.

As can be imagined, many adventures ensued in their 8,000 mile trek across desert, meeting friendly natives, hostile authority, and intransigent border forces... and constantly dealing with unreliable Chinese engineering!

So, where does Bosworth figure in this tale of derring-do? Well, one of the adventurers was a college friend of Alice, the daughter of Robert and Susan Constable-Maxwell of Bosworth Hall, and when, on his return, he was looking for somewhere to store his motorcycle he was offered garage-space at the Hall.

There, the machine rested for a number of years, still plastered in Uzbekistani mud and with Gobi Desert sand in the sidecar scuttle. Rescued and mechanically restored in later years by villager John Clarke, the combination was a regular at the Bosworth Festival and local rallies. Recently the machine has been donated to the National Motorcycle Museum at Coventry.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY

For the next meeting of the Historical Society we will be transported into Outer Space with an illustrated talk by Judith Rout, former Lead Educator at the National Space Centre, Leicester.

The meeting is on Wednesday, November 4th at 7.30pm, Sports Pavilion, Kilworth Road. The meeting is open to visitors - a door charge of £3 is requested. Annual subscription is only £15.

Recent visitors to the Gliding Club clubhouse café will have noticed this new 'Blue Plaque' that has appeared on the wall beside the entrance.

Many present-day members who fly from Husbands Bosworth will have little knowledge of the wider history of the site.

The Gliding Club has occupied the site of the former WWII aerodrome since 1964, and has finally got around to acknowledging the heritage... The plaque notes the role that the site played as a training base during the war, and also commemorates the memory of Claude Woodhouse, a founding member of the Club.

IN GOOD VOICE!

Village Voices is lively singing group, open to everyone - no fuss, no auditions... and just donations requested, singing an eclectic mix of wonderful songs, led by Willow and Rowan Songsmith again!

At the moment we are learning music that we will be singing at the carol service.

We meet at the Sports Pavilion on Tuesday evenings from 7.00pm to 9.00pm (except first Tuesday of the month).

CHURCH NEWS

All Saints Parish Church & St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church

ALL SAINTS CHURCH NEWS

The main subject of interest to All Saints Parochial Church Council members at the moment is the introduction of Minster Communities - those that affect us being Welland Cross, based on Market Harborough and South Leicestershire, based on Lutterworth.

In an ideal world all six of our Hexagon parishes, which are geographically central, would join the same Minster Community, but of course life isn't like that, and three parishes want to come under one and three under the other!

This would probably see the end of the Hexagon Benefice as we know it, which would be a shame, as we have all worked well together and it would be difficult for everyone.

There will be more to write on the subject in the near future, but whatever happens it is most unlikely that we will ever again have our own parish priest.

Having said that, we are very lucky that Chris and Paula Oxley, who live in the village, and previous incumbent, Andy Rhoades, take many of our services.

I'm sure that Paul Armstrong's many friends in Husbands Bosworth will be delighted to learn that he was ordained recently as a Deacon at Leicester Cathedral. Paul will be working from Lutterworth and hopes to give some time to us here in Husbands Bosworth.

Diary date: All Saints Christmas Tree Festival will be over the weekend of 5th/6th December. The Sunday benefice service on the 6th will be here at Husbands Bosworth, so the church will be decorated for the Festival.
